Special Recognition:

During the funeral for his Dad, Rich Clark presented the following poem he had written:

My dad was a simple man.

My dad was a wise man.

My dad is gone.

*My dad was a common man.
My dad was a rare man.*

My dad is still here.

*He lives on in his seven grown children,
His grandchildren, the
Family and friends who knew him,
And all the lives he touched.*

Memorial: Family was the most important part of Delmar and Mary Jane's lives. Nothing pleased them more than coming together where they could enjoy a meal and fellowship with family and friends. Outdoor living was a regular part of their lives.. For these reasons, Carol, her Mother, and her brothers and sisters established a fund to build a picnic shelter at St. Andrew. While other funds and memorial gifts have also been added to the fund, the primary donors for the shelter were the Delmar and Mary Jane Clark Family.

The Picnic Shelter completed July 2013
